EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

School children might be made to study epics like the Ramayan and Mahabharat in their history class as part of India's 'classical past', if an NCERT panel has its way. But this blurring of myth and history can only be counterproductive. India's deep relationship with its mythology should not be reduced to the wrangles of history. What is history, after all, but the names and dates of empires and battles, endless rounds of violence and extraction?

Perhaps India's historical lack of interest in history is not a defect, but a difference that has worked to our great advantage. Our calm indifference, our ability to keep our eyes on a different horizon in myth has helped us to not be imprisoned by the past. These eternal stories have nourished our spirit, told and retold by bards, story-tellers, plays and TV, proverbs and poems. Instead of keeping our minds on the cycles of power and vengeance, we have often succeeded in staying responsive to our own moment. Rather than a straight telling of absolute facts, we are comfortable with multiple perspectives, context and relative truths. It has helped us thrive as a diverse, accommodating nation. History can be weaponised with ease. When historical narratives are told with drama and flair, they can become seductive stories, making us project current animosities into long-ago events. They can have a galvanic effect on specific vote-banks. We draw twisted morals from the past into our present situation, and turn on fellow citizens.

Unhappy is the land that needs a hero, the saying goes. Happy is the nation that is not obsessed with its history. — In The Times of India

Ireland's natural rectangular rock pool

Dún Aonghasa: Inishmore, the largest of Ireland's Aran Islands, is home to a remarkable natural wonder, a rectangular pool cut so straight into limestone that it looks man-made.

Also known as "The Wormhole" or "The Serpent's Lair", Poll na bPéist is a natural water basin with an edge length of approx. 10 by 25 meters within a stone formation. It can only be accessed by walking along the cliffs south of the ancient site Dún Aonghasa, but in recent years it has become famous for hosting the renowned Red Bull Cliff Diving World Series.

The most fascinating thing about Poll na bPéist is its remarkable rectangular shape, which has led many to question its natural origins and sparked several theories, including that it is the work of an ancient civilisation.

Man walks on slackline while juggling knives

Coronado: A talented circus performer climbed onto a slackline in California and walked a distance of 34 feet and 4 inches while juggling three knives.

Guinness World Records (GWR) said Edgar Yudkevich captured the record for the greatest distance traveled on a slackline while juggling three knives when he took on the challenge in Coronado.

Yudkevich said he has been slackline juggling for about 12 years and decided to try knives to add an extra level of danger to the experience.

"The day I attempted this record was on World Circus Day and there was a community gathering of circus artists in Coronado," Yudkevich told GWR. "Everyone was celebrating and I decided to do a feat that would inspire my friends, as well as my students to push themselves further in their circus acts," he added.

Faulty Kaveri Online Version 2.0 App

Sir,

I have been using Kaveri Online Services App provided by the Department of Stamps and Registration to view information related to Encumbrance Certificate (EC), Registered documents etc. The App version 1.0 was working fine by facilitating the above mentioned information without errors. The recent latest version 2.0 is not providing accurate information when we query. It does not provide information prior to 2020 as per my experience.

I think the concerned Department officials have not tested the version 2.0 software thoroughly before releasing to the general public across the State.

It is leading to inaccurate information among the general public resulting in misleading information and utter confusion.

I request the Office of the District Registrar to look into this issue and upgrade the new software or roll-back to the old one.

MUDA faces backlash for road construction on Poornaiah Canal

Mysuru, Nov. 25 (RK&BCT)- Several residents of Bogadi and SBM Layout in city have raised concerns about the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) allegedly constructing a road in the middle of Dewan Poornaiah Canal. This Canal serves as the main feeder Canal, supplying fresh water to Kukkarahalli Lake and runs between Bogadi and SBM Layout.

Local residents assert that previous Deputy Commissioners, Harsha Gupta and D. Randeep, had issued orders to clear encroachments on the Canal. Numerous surveys in the area confirmed the existence of the original 22-km-long Canal. Despite efforts by Harsh Gupta and Randeep to demolish unauthorised structures and demarcate a buffer zone, certain vested interests obstructed these actions, said the residents.

Originally spanning 22 kms, only 4 kms of the Dewan Poornaiah Canal remains today due to unscientific development practices and environmental disregard. Constructed in the 1980s, Vijayanagar and Bogadi witnessed massive earth-moving activities, leading to the destruction of the historic Canal. The Canal's purpose was to supply fresh water to Kukkarahalli Lake from Bommanahalli Lake near Huyilalu village.

Presently, 4 kms of the Canal still exists behind SJCE (Sri Jayachamarajendra College of Engineering) and near Bogadi Road Bridge. Encroachments on the Canal have disrupted the natural flow of water, causing flooding in the layouts during rainfall, with water taking days to recede.

Former Registrar (Evaluation) of the University of Mysore, Prof. A.P. Gnana Prakash, a long-time resident of the area, has questioned MUDA's actions, stating, "Now, MUDA that is supposed to protect the natural water inlets and outlets is building a road on top of the Canal, causing further damage. How can a civic agency do this and who will tell the common man not to encroach Canals when MUDA itself is doing this?"

Taking up the issue, Prof. Gnana Prakash has complained to Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra stating, "As you know already Poornaiah Canal (Raja Kaluve) is largely encroached and in order to make it legal encroachment, now MUDA is laying a road in the middle of the Poornaiah Canal. It is illegal as per Supreme Court orders. In addition, MUDA has dumped loads of jelly stones nearby to construct the road," Prof. Gnana Prakash stated.

Residents challenge MUDA on compliance with buffer zone rules

Mysuru, Nov. 25 (RK&BCT)- In response to residents' allegations of constructing a road in the middle of Dewan Poornaiah Canal, MUDA Superintending Engineer Chennakeshava clarified that they have only cleared vegetation for a service road, not a thoroughfare on the Canal itself.

He explained, "A service road is being constructed to maintain the Poornaiah Canal (Raja Kaluve) or the stormwater drain. This is to facilitate the maintenance of the Canal and provide public access to the nearby crematorium. The removal of trees and plants using a bulldozer was done solely for the purpose of maintaining the Canal and providing public convenience, not for road construction. Following the objection by the residents, we have stopped the service road construction."

However, residents have raised concerns about the lack of a buffer zone and urged MUDA to adhere to established rules. According to the Principal Bench of the National Green Tribunal (NGT) in New Delhi, buffer zones are mandatory around lakes and Raja Kaluves to prevent further construction in such areas. The buffer zone for lakes has been increased from 30 metres to 75 metres.

For Raja Kaluves, the revised buffer zone is 50 metres, 35 metres and 25 metres for primary, secondary and tertiary Canals, respectively. The NGT specifies that the buffer zone around Raja Kaluves should be measured from the edge, not the middle. Residents are questioning the absence of a buffer zone for the Poornaiah Canal.

Social Welfare Minister holds progress review meeting of Boards, Corporations

Mysuru, Nov. 25 (RK&DM)- Social Welfare Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, who is also Mysuru District In-charge Minister, held Mysuru Revenue division progress review meetings of all Boards, Corporations and other Government agencies coming under the Department, at the KSOU Administrative Block in Muktagangothri campus along Hunsur road here yesterday.

Presiding over the meeting, Dr. Mahadevappa received inputs on student hostel admissions, hostel infrastructure, quality of food served in hostels, student scholarships, distribution of food grains to beneficiaries etc.

Stressing on the need for officials to bring about a visible social change through innovative and practical measures, Dr. Mahadevappa said that the Department has been receiving complaints regarding apathy in booking of cases, investigation and filing of charge sheet against the accused in cases registered under the SC/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act.

Asking the officials to consider these cases seriously, he warned that the concerned DCs and other higher ups will be held responsible if there is any laxity, lethargy or lapses in filing of cases or investigation.

Highlighting the need for bringing about social transformation, in keeping with the Government's motto of social justice for all, the Minister said that officials should educate the people on the Department's programmes and policies so that all the targeted sections are benefited.

During the course of the meeting, Dr. Mahadevappa held a video conference with the DCs, SPs and other top district-level officials of all the 8 districts coming under Mysuru Revenue Division (Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar, Hassan, Kodagu, Dakshina Kannada, Udupi and Chikkamagalur), wherein he gave some instructions on speeding up the implementation and delivery of all welfare schemes.

Malnourished, injured tiger dies at Bandipur

Bandipur, Nov. 25 (MTY & BCT)- A malnourished sub-adult tiger, engaged in a territorial altercation that resulted in serious injuries and subsequent starvation for over two weeks, died on the outskirts of Bandipur Tiger Reserve yesterday.

The wounded tiger, believed to be around three-year-old, was initially sighted at the farm of Doddakariyayya near the D-Line of the Tiger Reserve in Maddur Colony, bordering the Maddur Range. The big cat had suffered severe injuries on its body and face, indicative of a likely altercation with another tiger within the same territory.

Seeing the emaciated tiger that was unable to move, villagers alerted the Forest Department. However, the villagers alleged that though the Department was informed in the morning, the staff reached the village only in the evening, delaying the response.

However, the Department officials clarified that ACF (Gundlupet) G. Ravindra and Maddur Range Forest officer B.M. Mallesh swiftly responded to the call. Upon arrival, officials found the tiger in a weak state, struggling to maintain its balance. Despite efforts by veterinarian Dr. Mirza Wasim and staff, the big cat could not survive.

Initially, the decision was made to transport the tiger to the Chamundi Wildlife Rescue and Rehabilitation Centre of the Mysuru Zoo at Koorgalli. However, the tiger succumbed to its injuries.

Senior authorities, including Bandipur Tiger Reserve Director P. Ramesh Kumar, promptly arrived at the scene, adhering to the Standard Operating Procedure outlined by National Tiger Conservation Authority.

Subsequently, a postmortem examination was carried out.

Woman's death sparks outcry; villagers accuse Forest Department of inaction, negligence

Rathnamma

Nanjangud, Nov. 25 (BCT)- A 50-year-old woman grazing her cattle fell victim to a tiger attack on the outskirts of the Hediyala Range in the Bandipur Tiger Reserve at Balloora Hundi, falling under the Nanjangud taluk of Mysuru district yesterday. The incident unfolded as the woman attempted to rescue her cattle from the tiger's assault.

The deceased, identified as Rathnamma, a resident of Balloora Hundi village, had her body partially consumed by the attacking tiger before being discovered by villagers. The tiger dragged her body over a distance of more than 3 km before abandoning it after consuming a portion. The attack occurred while she was grazing cows with two other women. Two other women narrowly escaped by fleeing to safety and promptly alerted the villagers. They located her body and informed the forest officials.

RFO (Hediyala Range) K.R. Narayan and other officials rushed to the scene, taking measures for a postmortem examination at Nanjangud Hospital and filing a case. Balloora Hundi in Devirayashettipura Gram Panchayat, approximately 35 km from Nanjangud in Mysuru district, has heightened concerns among villagers due to the tiger's menacing presence.

Notably, a tiger had attacked Veerabhadra Bhovi, 72, a resident of Mahadevanagar near Hediyala range a month ago. Villagers alleged that the Department had not acted on the previous incident, leading to the latest attack. Despite complaints, the Forest Department's lack of discernible action has been a point of contention.

Villagers claim it was the same tiger that attacked Veerabhadra Bhovi now attacked Rathnamma. However, Director of Bandipur Tiger Reserve, Ramesh Kumar, informed reporters that villagers often disregard the caution of forest personnel, attempting to rescue their livestock from wild animal attacks and risking their lives.

Ramesh Kumar cited a previous incident in which Farmer Balaji Naik of Kaadabeguru lost his life to a tiger attack on Nov. 6 while trying to save his cattle. Despite subsequent combing operations, the elusive tiger remains uncaught. Kumar announced plans to install cages and cameras in the vicinity of the tiger attack, to launch operation to trap the big cat today.

Governor or Tormentor?

Raj Bhavan, Chennai.

On Monday, the Supreme Court expressed its displeasure at the delay by some State Governors in giving assent to Bills. The Governors have to approve these Bills since they were sent back to Raj Bhavan following re-adoption by the Assembly.

Opposition-ruled States, namely, Kerala, West Bengal, Punjab, Telangana, Jharkhand and Tamil Nadu, have had problems with their respective Governors for a while and continue to do so.

Surprisingly, Governors in the States mentioned above have openly deployed delay tactics using their discretionary powers under the Constitution.

It has now reached a point where elected State Governments have to constantly knock on the doors of the Supreme Court to seek judicial remedies to ensure smooth governance in their States!

Governors who are supposed to be a kind of 'mentors' have turned 'tormentors'.

Speaking about the ongoing conflict between the Tamil Nadu Governor and the Tamil Nadu State Government, former Congress leader Kapil Sibal asked a few months ago, "Do we need a Governor at all?"

Kapil Sibal did not ask this question when he was the Law Minister and his Government was in power for ten years. Why? Because the position of a Governor is a political weapon that every Government wields.

A Governor has always been an expensive political instrument, and this position should be discarded as soon as possible to save taxpayers' money and our democracy.

Raj Bhavans are now homes where party loyalists, who know too much, are sent to stay in comfort and silence until they are asked to cause trouble.

Raj Bhavans have also become protective bunkers for party loyalists facing corruption charges. The best example in recent memory is former Delhi CM Sheila Dikshit.

Sheila Dikshit was made Kerala Governor immediately after she lost the Delhi elections. It was quick decision-making by a Government notorious for being 'paralysed.'

What was the first order of business Sheila Dikshit conducted after she became the Governor? She sought to quash an FIR lodged against her!

Her lawyers argued before the Delhi High Court that the Trial Court order to lodge an FIR against her in a graft case is illegal because such proceedings cannot be continued against a Governor! Wah!

These Governors are expensive, too. For example, former Mizoram Governor Kamla Beniwal reportedly cost the tiny State's exchequer Rs. 8 crore a year ! She loved flying off to her home State, Rajasthan. The 87-year-old Beniwal was also named in a major 'books scam' and a 'land scam'!

Our contemporary history is full of high-handed Governors appointed by a Union Government, turning against popular leaders in the State and destabilising it. The Tamil Nadu Governor is just the latest example of a long-standing tradition of 'trouble-making.'

In 1982, Haryana had a Hung Assembly. The then Governor G.D. Tapase invited a few MLAs who were defectors and made them join Congress, which then, despite being a minority party, formed the Government with Bhajan Lal as CM. Here is the interesting part - just the previous day, Devi Lal had proven the majority to the Governor!

In 1984, Congressman and Andhra Pradesh Governor Ram Lal dismissed the N.T. Rama Rao Government and installed Nadendla Bhaskara Rao as the Chief Minister of Andhra Pradesh for 31 days!

While most Governors meddled in State politics, one indulged in porn-tics. 'Testosterone Tiwari,' aka late N.D. Tiwari, then an 83-year-old Governor, was caught on camera getting naughty messages with three reluctant young women.

The Congress did nothing, nor did the Women's Commission. But what about the law? Well, N.D. Tiwari was the Governor, so the law couldn't touch him; only young ladies could, we suppose.

The 1983 Justice Sarkaria Commission had recommended that a Governor be a person of eminence, not involved in the local politics of the State to which he or she is sent, and not a politician associated with the ruling party at the Centre, in order to preserve the federal balance.

Obviously, the above recommendation has not been implemented, as politicians are still appointed as Governors. This being the case, how can a Governor care for India's federal balance? After all, he got the position by caring more for his party than his country.

So, while we had one pervert Governor, many have been mischief-makers and facilitators for their party in Delhi. It even became a safe house for the corrupt.

We assumed Modi, who kept saying 'minimum Government and maximum governance,' would remove this appendix in the Indian democracy. But alas.

It is time to eliminate this ceremonial position and turn their grand retirement homes, the Raj Bhavans, into museums, art galleries and music centres. At least the Government will earn some money instead of losing money, and it will be one less threat to our federal structure.

Will this Government do it? Nah! Every Government needs a sleeper cell they can activate when they want to deactivate a State Government. We are doomed.

'In True Colours,' a two-day Photo Exhibition begins

Mysuru, Nov. 25 (BLU&BCT)- 'In True Colours,' a two-day photo exhibition opened to the public at Wadiyar Centre For Architecture (WCFA), located on Krishnaraja Boulevard near Mysuru Law Courts in city this morning. The event features over 55 photographs clicked by Founder-Trustee of Pratham Mysore Ashvini Ranjan.

The exhibition, which is open to the public from 11 am to 5.30 pm, was inaugurated by Star of Mysore and Mysuru Mithra Founder-Editor Dr. K.B. Ganapathy. Ashvini Ranjan, his wife Shashi Ranjan, sons Viren Ranjan and Nikhil Ranjan, legendary photo-journalist late T.S. Satyan's son T.S. Nagendra, CEO of Pratham Mysore Sheshadri and others were present.

Over 90 percent of the photographs displayed at the exhibition are black and white photos and a majority of them have been taken in village areas, in rural settings. The funds raised from selling the displayed photographs will contribute to the initiatives of Pratham.

Inaugurating the exhibition, Dr. K.B. Ganapathy pointed out the difference between painting and photography. "A painter has time to put his thoughts or vision into the canvas while a photographer has no such luxury. Photography is instant and has to be captured at that precise moment. And the clicked photo is a glorious moment," he said.

Highlighting the essence of patience and perseverance in the field of photography, Dr. Ganapathy emphasised that these qualities are the distinguishing features of a skilled photographer. In particular, wildlife photographers exemplify these traits as they often spend days waiting for that unique moment to capture and share with public.

He noted that photographers, especially those focused on nature, must possess a keen eye for detail and an abundance of patience. He drew a contrast with newspaper photographers who can request a Minister or VIP to re-inaugurate or re-light a lamp if they miss a shot at an event, this luxury is not available for nature photographers in their pursuit of fleeting moments.

The photographs at the exhibition narrate the stories of people who live simple and anonymous lives, engaged with struggles of daily existence. In his address, T.S. Nagendra said that Ashvini Ranjan's photography is reminiscent of his father T.S. Satyan's photography. "Many frames here are similar to what my father took. I know Ashvini Ranjan is an entrepreneur but one can see his passion for photography at this exhibition," Nagendra added.

Avoid Karanji Tank Bund road

Sources told Star of Mysore, "The works over laying pipeline of 200 MM capacity has been taken up from the pump house at Karanji tank premises to MCC water tank in the premises of Vasanth Mahal (District Institute of Education and Training - DIET - Office), coming under Ward-52 of MCC. The existing pipeline is of a lesser size and hence the works have been taken up to replace them with enhanced size pipeline at an estimated cost of Rs. 50 lakh under 15th State Finance Commission (SFC) grants of 2023-24."

Moreover, guddali puja for the works was performed before the recently concluded Dasara but the works were not taken up in the interest of burgeoning number of tourist vehicles and one-way traffic rule that was in force including Lalitha Mahal road that connects Karanji Tank Bund road. With Dasara festival over and traffic back to normalcy, the works have been taken up now.

However, to avoid any traffic snarls, the vehicles moving on either way of Karanji Tank Bund road are diverted towards alternative routes like Gopala Gowda Shanthaveri Memorial Hospital Circle (Nazarbad Police Station Circle), Kurubarahalli junction near Defence Food Research Laboratory (DFRL), Lalitha Mahal road and Mysuru Zoo road, said a source.

Bengaluru 'Kambala' buffalo racing

Buffalo racing teams from the coastal Karnataka region are gearing up to participate in this urban edition and the event promises to bring the vibrant spirit of this traditional sport to the bustling cityscape of Bengaluru, offering a unique blend of tradition and modernity.

In anticipation of the Kambala races, trial runs were conducted yesterday in the slushy water tracks, building excitement as the city prepares to witness the thrilling spectacle of buffalo racing. With over 8 lakh people expected to attend, the organisers aim to make this two-day Kambala a record-breaking event, featuring the longest 'kere' (slush track) measuring 155 metres instead of the usual 145 metres. The race's winner will be awarded a cash prize of Rs 1.50 lakh.

Beyond the exhilarating spectacle, the objective behind organising Kambala in Bengaluru is to shed light on the issues faced by the Tulu-speaking community in the capital, with a target of having at least 125 pairs of buffaloes participating.

To facilitate this, each buffalo owner will receive Rs. 50,000 as a transport cost allowance. Stalls showcasing the traditional delicacies of Dakshina Kannada have been set up, adding a flavourful touch to the cultural exchange.

Apart from buffalo racing, musical nites, food festival with over 100 stalls, exhibition of various service sectors and products have also been organised.

The daily footfalls is expected at over three lakh and sophisticated seating arrangements have been made for them.

'Kannada medium will not deprive higher positions'

Mysuru, Nov. 25 (MTY&TRR)- The Managing Director of Dr. Babu Jagjivan Ram Leather Industries Development Corporation Limited (formerly LIDKAR) KMS Vasundhara has advised youths not believe in the myth that studying in Kannada medium will not help in attaining higher positions.

She was speaking after inaugurating the Silver Jubilee celebrations of Kannada Rajyotsava held at Centenary Hall of Maharaja's College in city on Tuesday. The function was organised by the College's Department of Kannada and Extra-curricular Activities Committee.

"Many are under the impression that only by studying in English medium one can reach higher positions in society. Some also fear that studying in Kannada medium will deprive them of opportunities while pursing professional ambitions. But our Kannada language is very rich and has the ability to offer a good life. Nobody should feel ashamed to speak in Kannada. How can we ignore our mother-tongue? Kannada should not be just a language for us, it has to be our life," said Vasundhara.

Asking students to have the ability to efficiently showcase their talent in Kannada, she said once that is done it would be easier for them to exhibit their talent in other languages. "Study will increase your grasping power. You must read Kannada literature and Kannada writers. When Kannada faces danger or is defamed, we all should protest unitedly. Kannada Rajyotsava should be celebrated as Karnataka Rajyotsava," she opined.

Asserting that the State of Karnataka was not formed easily, she advised students to carry forward the legacy of our language's dignity, glory, history and culture.

Assistant Controller of Legal Metrology, Technical, Department of Legal Metrology, Bengaluru, M.S. Kumar, Maharaja's College Acting Principal Prof. V. Shanmugam, Head of Kannada Department Prof. D. Vijayalakshmi, Extra-curricular Committee President Prof. C.E. Lokesh and others were present.

There are more than 50,000 families of skilled workers who come under Dr. Babu Jagjivan Ram Leather Industries Development Corporation Limited. Actor Daali Dhananjaya has agreed to be the Ambassador for the products of LIDKAR. An official notification about this will made soon, said KMS Vasundhara, LIDKAR MD.

Teach music for inculcating good culture: Jagannath Shenoy

Mysuru, Nov. 25 (DM)- Maintaining that children should be taught music for developing a good health, noted Industrialist Dr. M. Jagannath Shenoy said that doing so will help in children evolving as better citizens.

He was speaking after being felicitated by Pandit Ramarao Nayak Memorial Swarasankula Sabha at a programme organised at Ganabharathi on Adichunchanagiri road in Kuvempunagar recently.

Calling upon the people to listen to music for maintaining good health, Shenoy, an art patron, said parents should provide music education to their wards in order to help them in becoming better citizens of the country.

Underlining the benefits of learning music, he said that music is so interesting that the children after learning it for five consecutive years, will continue thereafter as well. This is the power of music, he said adding that 'Music acts as a healer in traumatic circumstances'.

Senior theatre artiste Jayaram Patil said that those who learnt music at Veereshwara Punyashrama in Gadag have spread music far and wide across the world. Opining that the great music icon Panchakshari Gavai is responsible for this, Patil said that later on, Puttaraja Gavai continued the legacy of Panchakshari Gavai.

Pandit Veerabhadraiah Hiremath of Gadag's Punyashrama is teaching music in Mysuru, he added.

Swarasankula President Dr. M.S. Bhaskar and others were present on the occasion.

Later, Vidushi Amritha Shenoy Kamath presented a Hindustani Classical Music concert.

'Education not promoting values, personality development'

Mysuru, Nov. 25 (SPN &TRR)- Spiritual thinker Shankar Devanur lamented that the present education system is promoting only ways and means to earn more money and not promoting values and personality development among students.

He was speaking at an interaction on 'Moulyadharita Shikshana Mattu Vachana Sahitya' organised by Sharana Sahitya Parishat, Mysuru Unit at Gopalaswamy Educational Institutions premises in Lakshmipuram recently.

"The tender age children must grow in a cultural environment, which can be assured by Vachana literature. Vachanas develop and illuminate one's personality. Teachers must be pro-active in this direction," he said.

Stating that present day children must come out of the illusions of western education, Shankar Devanur explained how he was blessed with knowledge at his alma mater Devanur Sri Gurumalleshwara Mutt's educational institutions and spoke about the education being offered by the Suttur Mutt to rural students which is unique by itself.

"Vachana Sahitya of 12th century has the content to promote value-based education which is so essential for present day students. It is not the intention of education to provide mere information, but also to inculcate the art of living. Present day teachers must make a sincere attempt to impart the gist of Vachana Sahitya to students and also introduce them to the Guru-Shishya tradition," added Shankar Devanur.

Sri Sharathchandra Swamiji of Kundur Mutt, who also spoke, opined that it is important to give value-based education to our generation and the parents should not shirk away from their responsibilities.

Former Deputy Director of Kannada and Culture Department M.G. Sadanandaiah, retired Kannada Lecture of Sri Ramakrishna Vidyashala S.S. Ramesh, retired Professor of University of Mysore Dr. K.S. Mallesh, Dr. H.T. Shylaja, Professor of BGS B.Ed. College Dr. Bettaswamy and Prof. Sadashivamurthy were present.

Public libraries have helped writers: Dr. K. Leela Prakash

Mysuru, Nov. 25 (SPN&DM)- Senior writer and Dr. K. Krishnamurthy Research Foundation Director Dr. K. Leela Prakash said that if not for Public Libraries, the life of writers would have come to the streets.

She was speaking at the valedictory of the National Libraries Week-2023 organised at Kuvempunagar branch Library on Vishwamanava Double road recently.

Pointing out that Public Libraries are buying the books of writers in lots and this has greatly helped the writers, Dr. Leela Prakash maintained that Public Libraries are also encouraging the young and the old writers alike. But things have changed in the post COVID period, with the Government not showing much interest in bulk buying of books. As such, many of the writers are facing a lot of difficulties as their books have piled up in their homes unsold, she regretted.

Recalling the contributions of S.R. Ranganathan, the Indian Librarian and educator who is considered as the 'Father of Library Science in India', she said that his Five Laws of Library Science brought about a revolution in Library Science in the country.

On the occasion, prizes were distributed to the winners of the quiz organised as part of the National Library Week. The winners were Dayananda - first prize, K. Rani - second prize and Roopa - third prize.

Kuvempunagar Branch Library Committee Member A.G. Devaraju, In-charge Librarian H.V. Ramesh and others were present.

Shakti: 100 crore women travellers and counting

KSRTC bus drivers honoured for 'Accident-Free Driving'

Bengaluru, Nov. 25 (KMS&BS)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah said: "The State is celebrating the moment of 100 crore women travelling for free under Shakti Scheme, when the BJP leaders including Prime Minister Narendra Modi were sceptical about the implementation of Guarantee Schemes and criticised that the State will go bankrupt it the schemes were implemented."

The CM spoke after inaugurating the programme organised by Transport Department to celebrate 100 crore free KSRTC bus rides of women under Shakti Scheme, at Banquet Hall of Vidhana Soudha yesterday.

The CM, who awarded Gold Medals to 83 KSRTC bus drivers for 'Accident-Free Driving,' said: "Our Government has made enormous achievement within six months of coming to power, which no other Governments in the country did in the past, with substantiating records to prove the feat. The BJP men should stop uttering lies without any forethought."

Ever since Shakti Scheme was rolled out in the State on June 11, 2023, a total of 100.47 crore women have availed of the benefit till Nov. 23, but still why does the BJP leaders utter so many lies, asked Siddharamaiah.

Of the total bus passengers, 55 percent are women who opted for a free ride.

The intention of the Government is to empower women economically. We won't rack our brain to the unnecessary comments of Opposition parties that stems out of jealousy, said CM Siddharamaiah.

This constant newspaper vendor defies stereotypes

71-year-old Kanaka Ratna sells newspapers on footpath near Chikka Gadiyara

By A. Ganesh

Mysuru, Nov. 25- Women have left an indelible mark in diverse fields, shattering the glass ceiling and stepping into traditionally male roles, with many more paths waiting to be tread.

Septuagenarian Kanaka Ratna from the city is a testament to such resilient women, carving her niche as a newspaper distributor and vendor in a field typically dominated by men.

Located near the auto stand in front of Chikka Gadiyara (Dufferin Clock Tower) near Devaraja Market on Sayyaji Rao Road, Kanaka Ratna can be observed diligently selling newspapers daily. Her journey began 38 years ago when she assisted her husband, Satyanarayana Shetty of Mandi Mohalla, in the newspaper distribution business. Even after her husband's passing, she persevered.

Childless and having to fend for themselves, the couple sustained their livelihood by selling newspapers and magazines. Shetty would procure newspapers from agents, distributing them to households in the morning and later selling magazines near Mysore Race Club (MRC). Simultaneously, Ratna, after completing household chores, began selling newspapers in front of the mentioned auto stand.

Following her husband's demise, Ratna, grappling with loneliness, found solace in her neighbour Kumuda, who is graciously providing shelter for the past 18 years without charging rent. The community has rallied around Ratna, ensuring her nutritional needs are met.

Devoted to her work, Ratna rises daily at 4.30 am, purchasing newspapers from agents to distribute to market shops and households. She then sets up her makeshift stall, spreading newspapers opposite the auto stand. Even during the COVID-19 pandemic, Ratna faced the challenge head-on, garnering appreciation for her unwavering commitment.

Well-regarded among fellow vendors and autorickshaw drivers around Devaraja Market, Ratna is affectionately praised as a hard-working woman. At 71, she expresses no complaints of health issues and intends to continue selling newspapers until her last breath.

Grateful for the support of autorickshaw drivers and the Police, Ratna sells various Kannada dailies, with Mysuru Mithra (the sister publication of Star of Mysore) being particularly popular.

Recognising her dedicated service, the Karnataka State Newspaper Distributors Federation and Newspaper Distributors Welfare Association honoured Ratna at a recent event at Pathrakartara Bhavan.

J.S. Homadev, President of Mysuru District Newspaper Distributors Welfare Association, emphasised the need to recognise hard-working individuals like Ratna by providing them with suitable housing through Government initiatives.
